

She understands that keeping my voice in these communications is essential, yet is able to balance that with adding the 'polish' and finishing touches that keep my communications professional and consistent. I would highly recommend The Rented Writer to other executives for this service."

"We engaged The Rented Writer to help supplement the QA efforts during a product launch crunch. Karen not only learned the application in a very short period of time, she led the way in establishing our QA and Tech Writing processes so that we would be more efficient on a go forward basis. Working as a part of a virtual team, Karen's superior communication skills ensured that all team members were on the same page and that everyone truly felt like they were a part of the team. In addition to acting as QA, Business Analyst and Tech Writing Lead, Karen also managed our daily issue management with our most critical business partner. Whatever tasks came up that required someone with great attention to detail, project management skills and the ability to communicate clearly and concisely Karen was willing and able to take them on.

She was truly an integral part of the successful launch of our product and of establishing processes that have created the most efficient team in our company. She is awesome."

"Karen of The Rented Writer fulfilled multiple roles for us on our Vericast project. She created all of the high-quality documentation associated with the product, including specifications and user guides, in a quick and efficient manner - all from her remote office in North Bennington. She also reviewed and provided valuable feedback on our marketing pages. We called on her for the QA tasks and level II support for the project, too, and so she became a virtual extension of our team. Her services were the perfect match for us, seeing as we were looking for high quality on a conservative budget"

What is The Rented Writer?

The Rented Writer is a unique service provider offering cost-effective solutions for outsourcing your:

- corporate communications
- office documentation (form design, letters, etc.)
- marketing materials (flyers, brochures, etc.)
- personal documentation (e.g. resumes)
- technical documentation (requirements documents, specifications, user manuals, etc.)
- Web page content
- other software development support functions (analysis, testing, implementation, etc.)

Whether you are a recent college graduate looking to craft your first resume, a small business needing basic office documentation, or a large software firm requiring documentation for a development project, The Rented Writer is here to serve your documentation needs.

The Rented Writer offers a cost-effective alternative to hiring full time resources or engaging contracting firms.

No project is too big or too small for The Rented Writer!

Why Choose The Rented Writer?

The Rented Writer is an attractive alternative for cost-conscious companies and project managers, as well as individuals.

We offer eleven years of corporate and technical writing and software support experience in a variety of industries (telecommunications, education, financial, and cottage industries).

Our rates are highly competitive: they beat outsourcing through staffing services firms hands-down. There are no placement fees or percentages levied as a part of our services – just our hourly rates. We make it simple.

And we can blend seamlessly with your team as a virtual extension of that team for the duration of any project. We offer all of the benefits of a Full Time Employee (FTE) without the added cost of employee benefits or a salary commitment.

But don't just take our word for it – read on to hear what others have to say about our services!

What Others Say About The Rented Writer...

"When Tech Valley Communications was in its infancy, Karen helped us tremendously by writing key office documentation, including our Employee Handbook and training materials for our CSR staff. She also helped install, modify, test, and train on using our billing system, which was central to kick-starting our operations. Due to these efforts, I would definitely say that we were in better position organizationally earlier than most start up companies."

"As Chief Operating Officer, I have a vast number of communications that I need to send out on a daily basis. We are a mid-sized company and do not have a corporate communications staff that I can pass these communications through for a clarity and consistency check before sending them out. I call on The Rented Writer to fulfill that role. Karen is easy to work with. (continued)
